Thieves con old man out of £2,000

HEARTLESS conmen tricked a 77-year-old Dudley man into believing they were water officials – and stole £2,000 while he was asked to keep an eye on a bathroom tap.

Dudley police are appealing for information that might help to catch the two men, one of whom was wearing a distinctive bowler-style hat and brown waistcoat.

They struck at the man's home in Jervis Close, Pensnett, claiming they needed to check his water supply.

One of the men ran taps in the kitchen and asked the victim to do the same in the bathroom. But while the pensioner was upstairs the pair rummaged through the house and stole £2,000.

Investigating officer, DC Tony Jones, of Dudley CID, said: "The men approached the victim's address just after 3pm and stated they were from the 'water board'."

"Unfortunately the victim didn't ask for identification or ask any questions over their authenticity. All householders need to be mindful that water boards, or indeed gas or electricity boards, no longer exist so alarm bells should start ringing if anyone claims to be from a utility 'board'."

One thief was a stocky, white, man in his 30s with short blond hair and his accomplice is slightly taller and aged about 40."

Mast fears to be heard

MORE than 1,300 objections have been raised against plans for a 49ft phone mast next to a water tower.

Campaigners are against the application for Ashdene Gardens in Wordsley.

Residents have won their battle to get the proposals heard by planning chiefs next month. The development is next to Friar's Gorse Tower, on land owned by Severn Trent. Protestors led by Rob Mayer will get the chance to try and convince councillors to reject the plans.

£10m BUS DEPOT FOR MERRY HILL

by John Corser

TRANSPORT bosses are to invest £10 million in Merry Hill's bus station. New eco-friendly buses will be introduced and bus lanes and gates installed to allow the vehicles to jump traffic queues. The station itself will also be extended to increase capacity by 25 per cent.

£250,000 to help set up businesses

A £250,000 fund to support people setting up a business which will benefit the local community is set to be launched in Dudley. Firms can bid for a share of the Community Enterprise Fund money.

It will be launched during April and will aim to support people looking to set up social enterprises.

This support will include funding, ranging from £5,000 to £25,000, in addition to ongoing advice and support.

Leader of Dudley Council, Councillor Les Jones said: "We are always looking at ways we can make the most of the powers we have through the Localism Act in order to help people realise their ambitions."

"This innovative fund will help people get their community focused businesses off the ground and we will also offer ongoing support to help make social enterprises work."

The announcement of the Community Enterprise Fund follows the launch of Dudley's £1 million local business fund earlier this month to help give local firms easier access to finance.

It will enable firms in the area to apply for cash to be loaned at commercial rates to improve access to finance.

The fund would be administered by the Black Country Reinvestment Society.

Figures show the cash could be used to support up to 40 businesses in the area, creating 30 jobs.

Half of the £10m will come from the Government and the rest will be funded by Merry Hill owners Westfield, Centro, National Express West Midlands and Rotala.

The project also aims to improve bus services going to and from the giant shopping complex and neighbouring Waterfront Business Park, where 8,000 people work.

Brierley Hill councillor Zafar Islam said: "Hopefully improving services around Waterfront will encourage new businesses to move in or, encourage employers who have left to rethink their decision to leave."

"This will help more people, especially the elderly, access Brierley Hill and the Merry Hill Shopping Centre."

"Merry Hill is one of the biggest shopping centres in the area so it is important to make it as accessible as possible. There has been a lot of investment in other bus stations in the borough, such as Stourbridge, so it is good news that Merry Hill's will be improved, too."

Reliability

Part of the scheme involves new bus lanes and bus gates in The Boulevard to improve journey times by five minutes.

There will also be a new bus-only highway link from the A4036 to improve journey times by up to eight minutes at peak times and improve reliability of services.

The improved bus station will have real time information for passengers at all stands, improved waiting facilities and lighting, better interchange and walk routes.

There will be improvements to a minimum of 40 bus stops along eight strategic routes to the shopping centre.

It is aimed at increasing the number of people travelling to the centre and business park by bus by 15 per cent by the end of 2015.

The current Merry Hill bus station receives the lowest customer satisfaction ratings in the West Midlands.

Church graves vandalised

Church treasurer John Harcourt surveys the wreckage left behind by yobs

Historic graves, some more than 200 years old, have been knocked over by yobs at a Black Country churchyard in an act of "mindless vandalism".

Nine crosses and two headstones were pulled from the ground and pushed over at St Edmund King and Martyr Church, Castle Hill, Dudley.

Church staff say the cost of repairs will not be covered by insurance – and they now face a struggle to track down relatives of the deceased.

The damage was discovered by church warden Anne Mullaney. No-one has been buried for 150 years in the grounds of the church, built in 1724. Church treasurer John Harcourt said: "This is disrespectful to the families of the people buried there, and these graves are part of the history of the town."

Insurers have told them the graves are the responsibility of the plot owners – but a contribution will be made to make the stones safe. Police are appealing for anyone with information on 0300 3333000.

£3.6m to improve council housing

A TOTAL of £3.6 million is to be spent fitting more than 500 council homes in Kates Hill with new windows, boilers and loft insulation.

The work follows a similar project on the Priory estate.

Work is already under way on two trial homes and the whole programme of improvements is expected to be completed in December. It is hoped it will cut the price of tenants' energy bills.

A total of 133 homes will get new windows. Wall insulation will be installed into 331 properties, almost 150 boilers will be replaced and loft insulation will be installed at around 200 homes as part of the Community Energy Saving Programme (CESP).

A survey has been carried out on each property to determine the work required and residents have been contacted to inform them.

Councillor Adrian Turner, said: "We have enjoyed successful CESP schemes across the borough over the last couple of years, including Pensnett and Priory."

"This scheme makes a real difference to our tenants as not only are their homes more energy efficient, they save money on their heating bills as well."

"I urge tenants to go and view the two pilot properties so that they can see the kind of work which will be done."

Legal move on gipsies

LEGAL action has been launched to evict travellers from an overflow car park at Dudley's Black Country Living Museum.

Eight caravans and a motor home are at the Tipton Road site in Dudley for the 12th day.

Bosses are hoping they will leave before the busy Easter holidays next week.

The museum has been holding talks with solicitors and has now launched a legal bid to get them evicted.

Anxious wait for MPs over shake-up

MPs face an anxious 18-month wait to find out whether they will need to compete against each other to keep their seats.

Consultation on an overhaul that could see the number of MPs cut from 650 to 600 is about to end.

Three MPs in the Black Country could find their seats abolished if a new electoral map is created. The Boundary Commission for England is accepting comments until April 3. It will come back in October next year with the formal proposals to Parliament for a vote.

In Sandwell, MPs could have an equal claim to each other's constituencies. A new Wednesbury seat would be made up by half of the current West Bromwich East and half by the current West Bromwich West. The rest of West Bromwich West would come under Dudley East. It leaves Labour MPs Tom Watson, Adrian Bailey and Ian Austin potentially battling over two seats.

Mr Bailey, who would have an equal claim to Wednesbury and to Dudley East, said: "I have not yet decided where I will stand. I have the highest regard for both Tom Watson and Ian Austin and if this situation does arise I know we shall all conduct ourselves in the appropriate manner."

Dudley South MP Chris Kelly said the review will cut the cost of politics by reducing the number of MPs and the size of the Commons and save £12 million a year.

Tory James Morris would see his Halesowen and Rowley Regis seat split between Stourbridge and Dudley South – both now Tory-held.

Driver is banned for drink offence

A HEATING engineer who popped out to get his partner heartburn medicine was caught behind the wheel at nearly twice the legal alcohol limit by an off-duty officer, magistrates heard.

Mark Hill was driving his Peugeot van "very slowly" along Dudley Road, Pensnett, at about 3.15am on March 11, said Mrs Maxine Jarrouse, prosecuting.

The 30-year-old, of Hazel Road, Kingswinford, was overtaken by the off-duty officer but then started driving "aggressively", she told Dudley Magistrates Court.

Asleep

When he pulled into a nearby BP petrol station he was arrested. He registered 66 microgrammes of alcohol in 100 millilitres of blood. The legal limit is 35.

Mr David Wilkins, defending, said Hill had been asleep but was woken by his partner who had suffered recurring problems with heartburn since the birth of their one-year-old child.

He said his client, who admitted drink-driving, could lose his job if he was banned.

But magistrates disqualified him for three years, fined him £400 and ordered him to pay a £15 victim surcharge and £85 costs.

Children set for mission

MORE than 70 students and staff from Ridgewood High School, Stourbridge, have set off on a mission to Gambia.

They will take useful items donated for villagers of Kitisilo and Half Dye, as well as leading a variety of activities in local schools.

Fellow pupils and parents have given goods such as art and craft tools, pens, crayons, footballs, hair accessories, small toys, early reading books and wool for Project Gambia 2012.

Post office plea

A POST office could return to Quarry Bank after bosses vowed to look into the effect its controversial closure had three years ago after Stourbridge MP Margot James raised the matter with Postal Affairs Minister Norman Lamb. Ms James urged him to consider reopening a branch in the area.

Puppy love! How Carol's passion aids guide dogs

Carol Evans pictured 30 years ago with her first dog, Ruby, and her first litter of Guide dog supermum Carol Evans has raised around 250 puppies to help blind and partially sighted people over the past three decades. And the grandmother-of-six has her hands full at the moment with the latest litter of puppies born to her dog Clare in recently.

Mrs Evans had always had a passion for dogs but 30 years ago decided to get involved helping to train up puppies for the charity Guide Dogs.

Her first dog, a pure-breed labrador called Ruby, became a much-loved family pet and lived at their Stourbridge home for 16 years.

Mrs Evans has also cared for descendants of Ruby including her daughter Joni, granddaughter Callie and great granddaughter Imogen.

"I love dog breeding and doing it for Guide Dogs, I know that the dogs will be well looked after and loved," the 57-year-old said.

"They are all individuals and my grandchildren love to see them all when they come around to visit."

The latest brood of eight puppies were born to her three-year-old labrador-retriever cross Clare in the past few days.

They are being fed four times a day at the moment on a dry food diet to give them the nutrients needed to help them grow up healthy.

Most guide dog puppies are born in volunteers' homes with support given from the Guide Dog's National Breeding Centre in Royal Leamington Spa.

The housewife, whose role is known as a brood bitch holder, said they are expected to stay at the family home until they are six or seven weeks old.

They are then handed to puppy walkers across the country who train them for the next 12 months. Pups need to get used to as many different sounds, smells and textures as possible, to prepare them for their future role.

By Andrew Turton

Trips out on buses and trains and into town centres are also invaluable to introduce the young dogs to people, she says. All the puppies then learn their final guide dog skills and the volunteers see if they can be paired with new companions.

Mrs Evans added: "I would say that a child is definitely more of a handful than 10 puppies."

"The puppies grow so quickly, they're helpless newborns to start with but once they open their eyes at 10 to 14 days old, they are up and about and independent within six weeks. Then they're off."

Rewarding

Mrs Evans, who lives with her husband, Michael, has looked after eight guide dog mums over the years.

She also cared for two German Shepherds called Tessa and Wheat and their litters had also become guide dogs. But she says she does not get upset as each puppy leaves the nest.

She said: "It is such a rewarding experience as you have the joy of the young dogs and then the joy of them going off to greater things in the future."

Date set for work on pipes

A £500,000 project to replace outdated gas pipes with new plastic ones in Halesowen will get under way on April 2, it has been announced.

The work, being carried out by National Grid, will take six months and two roads in Hurst Green will both be made one-way during the scheme.

At the same time, South Staffs Water workers will be replacing an old cast iron water main. Engineers will start work to replace the old gas mains running along Gorsty Hill Road and Coombes Road.

Busy

A week later, South Staffs Water will begin 20-week project to replace their main.

National Grid project manager, Stan Best, said: "This project will be a short term inconvenience for a long term benefit."

"We appreciate that there is never a good time to close such a busy road, but we have worked very closely with South Staffs Water and Dudley Council to co-ordinate our projects which will help to keep disruption to a minimum."

Dudley Council, which will also undertake street maintenance works at the same time, has thanked people for their patience.

Lots of fun is available

ACTIVITIES have been planned at Dudley Leisure Centre for youngsters this Easter.

Football matches, interactive dance mats, indoor bikes, computer games and T-shirt design workshops are among those on offer at the centre in Wellington Road. Events run from April 2 to April 4 from 9am to 4pm and are suitable for children aged eight to 14.

The activities must be pre-booked costing £10 per day and children will need to have a packed lunch and refreshments with them.

Nature ramble

WALKERS can get their boots on and enjoy a stroll through the nature reserve at Cotwall End, in Sedgley will take place on Saturday from 2p to 4.30pm. The Friends of Cotwall End Valley will lead tloking for the first signs of spring. Meet at the Brockwood Animal Sanctuary car park, off Catholic Lane. For details call 07849 804242.

Parents win autistic son's travel cost fight

THE parents of an autistic boy have won their legal battle with Dudley Council over free transport to and from school.

The council offered to pay travel costs for the six-year-old but only if he attended the nearest suitable school.

But that stance was challenged by his parents in 2009 and tribunal judges ruled the council should provide transport to the school his parents feel can best meet his needs – about a mile further from home.

They said the small increase in cost – £195-a-year for shared and £312-a-year for individual transport – was not unreasonable, given the educational advantages for the boy, and was not an "inefficient" use of council funds.

The council challenged the ruling and took the case to the Civil Appeal Court in London. But last week its arguments were rejected by three senior judges.

Lord Justice Davis said the stance taken by the council was open to "very serious objections" and the tribunal's decision was right, for the right reasons.

The judge, sitting with the Master of the Rolls, Lord Neuberger, and Lord Justice Richards added the increased transport bill could not, in this case, justify "overriding" the parents' preference of where their son goes to school. In his ruling, the judge said the boy – referred to in court only as "J" – suffers from autism and moderate learning difficulties. Although "happy and affectionate at home", his behaviour can sometimes be challenging.

His speech and language are seriously impaired and the judge added: "At pre-school, he found it difficult to follow an adult led agenda and was described as living in his own world."

The Appeal Court judges agreed with the "very significant advantage" of sending the boy to his parents' chosen school outweighed the extra transport costs.

The court's ruling means parents' chosen school will appear on their son's statement of special educational needs and Dudley must pay whatever it costs to get him to and from the school gates each day.

Richard McManus, QC, representing the council, had earlier argued: "Dudley spends approximately £2.5 million on special educational needs transport each year."

"The high cost of providing transport explains why a right of preference as to placement does not confer a corresponding entitlement to transport to that preferred placement if there are nearer alternative schools."

Thief who stole £4,200 in cigarettes is sent to prison

A MAN who raided a petrol station in Dudley and stole £4,200 of cigarettes is now behind bars after being jailed for 14 months. Adam Smith raided Wall Heath Service Station in Kingswinford in September.

by Laura Blyth

He got away in a Subaru Impreza, which had been stolen from a house in Dudley almost two weeks earlier.

Police arrested 23-year-old Smith, who was on licence, after finding traces of his blood at the service station. Wolverhampton Crown Court heard last week.

The court heard how Smith, of Oak Park Road, Wordsley, was on licence for drugs possession when he committed the offences.

Mr Rhidian James, prosecuting, told the court Smith and another unknown person broke into the service station in the middle of the night.

"They made off with £4,200 of cigarettes and caused £2,000 of damage to the shutters," Mr James said.

"CCTV inside showed there were two people who were masked."

"A blood swab was taken from the scene and it matched the DNA of the defendant."

The £4,500 Subaru, taken in a burglary at a house in Beech Road, Dudley, on August 26 was recovered by police in Wordsley. It had false plates.

In his police interview, Smith denied any involvement in the burglary at the service station, saying he was in bed asleep when it happened.

Cocaine

He tested positive for cocaine upon his arrest.

Mr Roy Paterson, defending, told the court: "He has expressed remorse over this. He blames everything on his lack of employment. He is desperate to work. He realises he can't go on this way."

Smith admitted burglary and allowing himself to be carried in a stolen car.

Recorder Michael Elsom told Smith: "You are no stranger to this court."

"This offence was committed while you were on licence."

No jail for threat woman

A WOMAN from Dudley who threatened another woman with violence unless she dropped charges against a friend has been spared further time behind bars. Recorder Martin Elsom told Susan Scott people who interfered with the law process usually ended up spending a long time in custody.

But he ruled at Wolverhampton Crown Court that because it had been some time since she had last been in trouble she could keep her freedom. Scott, aged 33, of Lake Street, Lower Gornal, admitted witness intimidation and she was given a year's jail term suspended for two years, placed on supervision for 18 months and ordered to attend an alcohol education and a substance abuse group.

Elle Gjoka, aged 10, and astronomy teacher Mark Townley at the science event

Students lift their sights for science

SCHOOLCHILDREN in Dudley have been learning about astronomy and made their own earthquake-proof buildings using pasta and sweets during a science day.

More than 40 pupils, aged 10 and 11, from seven primary schools in the borough were invited to Holly Hall Academy, Dudley, for the activities.

They learned about natural disasters and their impact on human life, including last year's devastating magnitude 9 earthquake and tsunamis in Japan.

Cloud

They discussed how to make earthquake-proof buildings and made their own using spaghetti and jelly babies.

After a St Patrick's Day-themed lunch in the school hall, the afternoon session included building a cloud chamber to observe evidence of cosmic rays.

The activities were organised by teachers Steve Jabore and Mark Townley, who run the school's sciences club.

Mr Jabore said: "Using telescopes they also looked for remnants of the solar flares that affected earth."

NEWS in brief

Dustbin solves prickly problem

KEEPERS at Dudley Zoo faced a prickly poser when they faced moving three crested porcupines to a new enclosure.

Assistant curator Richard Brown explained that, if disturbed, crested porcupines use muscles in their back to raise their quills to make themselves look bigger.

"When this happens they charge backwards towards their 'enemy' and can cause serious injury," he said. But the keepers persuaded them to crawl into a dustbin and then gently carried them to their new enclosure.

Children can get it the swim

PEOPLE are being urged to take the plunge and learn to swim this Easter at Halesowen Leisure Centre.

The centre in Pool Road will be running intensive swimming lessons for beginners and improvers.

A five-day course of intensive lessons for beginners aged four and over and one for children aged five and over who can swim at least 10 metres.

Both courses will run from April 2 to 6. There is a fee for the sessions. For details telephone the baths on 01384 812800.

Holiday football coaching offered

FOOTBALL coaching sessions will be held during the Easter holidays at Goals Soccer Centre, Dudley, from April 2 to 13 between 9am and 3pm.

General manager Gareth Cheadle said: "This is a great opportunity for youngsters to develop their skills over the holiday times." For details call Goals Soccer Centre on 0121 561 3000.

Libraries to get new computers

ALMOST 50 computers are being installed in libraries across Dudley to replace outdated machines to allow visitors to access the library catalogue and the internet.

The remaining PCs which were new in 2009 are also being updated with new software and additional memory.

Police meeting

A POLICE and Communities Together meeting will be held for residents of the Belle Vale area of Halesowen on April 4 at Windsor High School, starting at 7pm.

THE BEST
RHODES

BY MY reckoning, based on the schedule issued this week, the Olympic torch will be passing through drought-stricken East Anglia at about the time the region is officially declared a fire hazard.

DRACULA'S Castle. Does it need a revamp?

CAN we please ditch the silly old stereotype of all pensioners being poor? Many, of course, are hard-up. But thousands of retired folk are among the most financially secure people in the country. That is why Chancellor George Osborne is levying his "granny tax" on some of the better-off, and good luck to him. Even at my great age, my sympathies are with younger people desperate to get started in life, not with pensioners who think that having two Saga cruises a year is some sort of human right.

RIGHT decision, wrong reason. Judge Aiden Marron ordered a Muslim woman wearing a full veil to withdraw from a jury in London on the grounds that he needed to see her face while he was talking to the jury. But surely the real issue goes deeper than a judge's desire to see the faces he is addressing. It is that every English jury comprises 12 people and the system works only if the jury throughout the trial is the same 12 people. The juror in the burqa could be Surinder on Monday but Nigel on Tuesday.

AS FAR as I am aware our judicial system has only ever allowed one person to wear a mask and that was the public executioner.

THAT great national treasure, Nicholas Parsons, now 88, complains that age is a target for gags by people who would never dream of making jokes about gender, race or disability. But age is not the only free-fire zone for comics. People with ginger hair are still regarded as fair game. What a blessing it is that you can be old or ginger but rarely both.

I AM still puzzled by last week's menu for the Camerons' state dinner at the White House which included: "Shaved breakfast radish." Seriously, who eats radish for breakfast and how do you shave one?

THE Church of England is presumably drawing up the advert for Rowan Williams's successor: "The ideal candidate must understand that, while he will lead a Church based for 2,000 years on principles such as humility, obedience, chastity and self-denial, any attempt by him to defend those principles will be seen as reactionary, discriminatory and quite outrageous. (Please note: In view of the prestigious nature of this appointment, women need not apply)"

THAT showbiz veteran Davy Jones who died last month is fondly remembered by a reader who was working at the Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton, in the 1980s when Jones appeared in the touring production of Godspell. He recalls the Monkees star was "friendly, unassuming and very much prepared to mingle and chat." It is a golden rule of journalism that if you want to know what stars are really like, don't talk to their agents, their PR people or their fans. Talk to the theatre staff.

Future use of hall remains a riddle

MYSTERY surrounds the future of a former charity centre in Stourbridge - which used to serve hundreds of meals a week for elderly people - after it was sold.

Carlisle Hall, in Victoria Street, had been the base for the charity WRVS to run services, including meals-on-wheels.

But the centre, just off Stourbridge Ring Road, shut last March due to high running costs. Now it has emerged that the hall, which was on the market for £185,000, has been sold.

The building had been given to the people of Stourbridge by benefactor Ernest Stevens.

It had been once belonged to a trust managed by the forerunner of Dudley Council until 1956 when the freehold was transferred to WRVS.

Ward councillor Nic Barlow said it was a shame the WRVS had to close the building last year but he hoped it had a future.

He said: "It is a unique building within the town and has been there for a long time but we just don't know what is now going to be done with it."

"It would have been nice if WRVS had been able to find an alternative use for the building for people in this part of the borough. It has some nice features including stain glass windows so it will be interesting to find out what will become of it."

Around 150 meals were cooked daily at the centre with 70 people volunteering to support services each week but bosses were hit with £50,000 annual running costs for the meals on wheels service.

Fence at fire station to combat metal thieves

SECURITY fencing will be installed around Halesowen Fire Station when it closes amid fears it will become a target for vandals and metal thieves.

Crews are due to leave the Hagley Road station on April 1 after bids to safeguard its future failed. They will mark the closure of the station with a final parade at the end of the night shift at 8am.

School's pollution lessons

CLIMATE change lessons have taught children at a Dudley school how air pollution is created by cars.

Roberts Primary School, in Lower Gornal, held a series of car emission tests to mark events in climate change week.

The school, in Robert Street, is the site for Dudley's environment zone and hosts lessons for children from the borough.

Environmental protection officers from Dudley Council demonstrated to children how petrol and diesel cars generate air pollution.

It was hoped that the lesson, for pupils aged between six and 11, would raise awareness on the benefits of electric cars while encouraging families to think about greener ways of travelling.

Councillor David Stanley said: "Roberts Primary School is an eco school and its pupils are always encouraged to think about ways of helping the environment."

"Climate change week is a reminder to us all on how we can make small changes that will have a big impact on the environment and helping pupils understand the cause of air pollution is a great way for Dudley to do its part."

The news comes as firefighters who have manned the site over the years were hailed for their efforts and commitment to safeguarding the area.

Plans were already under way to relocate firefighters to other stations nearby.

Halesowen Fire Station Commander Mark Lawton confirmed the decision to secure the site would protect it while discussions about the possible sale of the land continue.

Mr Lawton, speaking to councillors at Halesowen Area Committee last week, added: "The building will be made secure before perimeter fencing is erected soon after the closure."

Tribute

Bosses have already said they do not want the building becoming an eyesore.

Halesowen area committee chairman, Councillor Ray Burston paid tribute to the work of crews.

"Even though we will not have fire crews present in Halesowen any more, we know they will still have crews taking care of people around here," he said.

Fire station project manager Simon Shilton said the station will go on sale soon. Cash from the sale is crucial to help boost the budget to pay to build a new station covering both Halesowen and Cradley Heath.

Halesowen councillor Ken Turner, of West Midlands Fire Authority, said: "It is important that the station is fully secured to ensure that no vandals or metal thieves can get in there."

Support group celebration

Left, Expert Patients Programme manager Clare Evans and Dudley Cancer Support manager Chris Barron with people who attended the reunion

DOZENS of patients and others affected by cancer have been reunited at a support group in Dudley.

Cancer Support at The White House, and staff from NHS Dudley held a reunion for people who have attended its expert patients programme to mark the 10th course to be held at the centre in Ednam Road. More than 80 people have completed one of the 10 courses held since February 2009. They were all invited to a coffee morning to celebrate the skills gained in managing their cancer diagnosis as well as catching up with friends. White House manager, Chris Barron, said: "We thought this would be a nice way of celebrating with the patients and carers we have helped over the last few years and give them a chance to meet up with old friends, as well as making new ones."

The next course will run for six weeks from June 12. To book call 01384 231232.

Reveller had knife hidden in his pants

A MAN who headed to a nightclub with a knife clipped to his boxer shorts as "protection" has been ordered to do 200 hours of community service.

Michael Francis was a passenger in a car that was pulled over by police in King Street, Dudley on March 10 at about 1.10am.

Francis, who admitted possessing an offensive weapon and possessing a class B drug, was given a 12-month community order at Dudley Magistrates Court.

After smelling, cannabis officers searched the car and Francis, of Sutton Crescent, West Bromwich, was suspected of "concealing something".

When he was searched at the police station he admitted having a knife clipped to his boxers, Mrs Maxine Jarrouse, prosecuting, said. Cannabis was also found.

Mr Mandla Bhomra, defending, said Francis had bought the knife from a fishing shop and did not know it was illegal.

He added: "He now realises the significance of the carrying a knife and that you can not carry it for your own personal protection."

Networking meal grows

A BUSINESS networking event in Brierley Hill has been switched to a larger venue due to demand. Representatives from Jaguar Land Rover are among those attending a business breakfast on Thursday.

Organisers, the Forum for the Built Environment, have moved it to The Copthorne Hotel, Level Street, from offices on the Waterfront. Dozens of firms have expressed interest in attending to showcase opportunities in the Enterprise Zones at the i54 site near Wolverhampton and in Darlaston.

It runs from 7.30am to 9.30am. Email philip.beale@beonline.co.uk for details.

Contract picked

DUDLEY Council has appointed the contractor to build the borough's £6 million archives and local history centre. Bosses said Midlands-based G F Tomlinson have been chosen to build the centre on the site of the old Brierley Crystal building on Tipton Road.

Closure of milk depot to cost jobs

DAIRY Crest will shut its depot in Stourbridge next month with the loss of up to five jobs.

The firm today said the closure was because of a drop in demand for milk to be delivered to the door.

Milkmen based at the site in Rufford Road will be transferred to the company's depots in Wolverhampton and West Bromwich.

Dairy Crest spokesman Arthur Reeves said there would be a "small number of redundancies" for office workers but no more than five.

He confirmed the Stourbridge depot would shut its doors on April 14.

"Fewer and fewer people are buying milk from their milkman so we have to keep re-scaling the business to match demand," added Mr Reeves.

There would not be any changes to deliveries.

Fishing at pool ends

ANGLERS are being reminded that fishing at a Dudley nature reserve has ended for the annual close season.

Fens Pool nature reserve, which stretches between Pensnett and Brierley Hill, will remain closed to anglers until June 15.

Dudley Council said the three month closure is vital for helping to protect fish stocks. They say it encourages breeding and as Fens Pool is a site of special scientific interest.

Environment chief, Councillor David Stanley, said: "As with every year, it is important that we close the pools during the breeding season."

Hours changed

OPENING hours at Dudley Council Plus are changing. From April 2 the Castle Street centre will close at 5.30pm, instead of 6pm, on weekdays. The new working hours will be 8am until 5.30pm weekdays and 9am until noon on Saturdays. More details: 0300 555 2345.

Charity swing

THE new captain of Hagley Golf and Country Club has chosen Stourbridge's Mary Stevens House as her charity for the coming year. Celia Shakespeare is planning to organise various fundraising events, including a captain's golf day.

Golfer who helped build up club dies at 88

A PROFESSIONAL golfer who helped a Midland club expand to more than 1,000 members has died at the age of 88.

Ron Hinton is the longest-serving professional at Enville Golf Club after his 35-year stint.

He retired in 1989 but remained an honorary member until his death, and was able to play regularly until the last 18 months.

During his career he witnessed the growth of the membership from 350 to more than 1,000, with Enville also being used as a qualifying course for The Open.

When he started there in 1954 the club had no gas or electricity but he spearheaded its expansion and set up his own shop.

Leading

Current members say Mr Hinton and his wife, Joyce – who worked as a caterer at the club – were responsible for Enville becoming one of the leading clubs in the Midlands. Mr

Hinton, who was originally from Birmingham, had spells at Robin Hood and Copt Heath clubs in Solihull before moving to Enville.

He became only the third professional in the club's history.

In the final two years of his life he lived in Bridgnorth, where he died where he died earlier this month.

Mr Hinton's two sons, Paul and Philip, are also golf professionals, with Philip competing on European tours in the 1980s.

Sean Power, Enville's current professional, who took over from Mr Hinton, said: "He was a very large part of Enville's history and he will be missed."

"He was extremely popular and well-liked."

Smile

"I worked with him as his assistant for four years before taking over from him and I learnt so much from him."

"He was great fun and always had a smile."

Cancer unit founder proud to top poll for civic award

THE founder of a leukaemia and cancer unit that cares for patients across the region has scooped the Mayor of Dudley's Civic Award after winning an online public vote. Ros Bratt-Wyton, aged 64, helped set up the Georgina Unit at Dudley's Russells Hall Hospital in 1998.

And she has since helped raise millions of pounds through the appeal fund, and still continues to spearhead fundraising today.

Mrs Bratt-Wyton, who was a specialist nurse at Russells Hall said it became her "goal" to introduce cancer facilities at the site.

Four other Civic Awards were also presented by the Mayor of Dudley, Councillor Michael Evans, for sport, the arts, community spirit and education.

Mrs Bratt-Wyton, of Hurst Hill, said: "I'm very proud and it is an endorsement of all the great work that the unit does."

"As well as treating patients we have had two weddings on the ward, sent a dying father and his family to Florida and paid for a teenager with cancer to see Manchester United play in Europe."

"We have always tried to do what other hospitals don't."

The other winners were badminton coach Maureen South, 69, of Stourton, who clinched the Duncan Edwards award for sport, and Margaret Noakes, 68, a retired music teacher from Sedgley, won the Cedric Hardwicke award for arts.

The Frank Foley award for community spirit went to chairman of Dudley Canal Trust Vic Smallshire, while The Thomas Attwood award for education winner was woodwork teacher Geoffrey Attwood, of Wollescote.

More than 8,000 votes were cast by members of the public via the council's website – more than 10 times the number posted last year.

Councillor Evans said: "It was wonderful to meet so many people who work tirelessly in their communities and speak to them."

Profile of people who were honoured

Duncan Edwards award for sport: Maureen South, 69, of Stourton, was recognised for her volunteering work teaching badminton at The Kingswinford School. She was secretary of the Cradley Heath Seniors League for 30 years and has led the youngsters at Kingswinford to glory in a series of tournaments.

"It's very rewarding and all the youngsters are like my family," the mother-of-one said.

Cedric Hardwicke award for arts: Margaret Noakes, 68, a retired music teacher from Sedgley, won the award for her work conducting the St Andrew's Church choir in the village for more than 30 years.

She taught at Cradley Heath Secondary School and the Dornston School before retiring in 2000. She said: "It's absolutely marvellous. I had no idea I had been nominated until I was invited to the ceremony. I feel very honoured."

The Frank Foley award for community spirit: Vic Smallshire, 66, chairman of Dudley Canal Trust, started the Dudley Tunnel Preservation Society to reopen and restore the Dudley Tunnel, caverns and waterways in Dudley.

Mr Smallshire, of Cradley Heath, said: "We were quite brave when we started out because British Waterways didn't want us to unblock the tunnel."

"I could have got an ASBO but instead all these years later I've ended up with an award, and now the canal trust is up there with Dudley Zoo and the Black Country Living Museum in terms of tourist attractions."

The Thomas Attwood award for education: Geoffrey Attwood, 73, of Wollescote, is a teacher who continues to pass on his woodwork skills in adult education classes at Thorns Community College in Brierley Hill.

Mr Attwood began teaching at Coppice Lane Boys' School in 1961 before embarking on a 40-year career as a technology teacher.

He said: "I've been lucky to work with and teach some great people over the years. I'm delighted to get this award."

Mayor's award: Ros Bratt-Wyton, from Russells Hall Hospital leukaemia unit appeal fund, who worked for 38 years in hospitals in Dudley.

She helped set up the Georgina Unit at Russells Hall Hospital, which cares for patients with leukaemia and cancer, in 1998. She has helped raise millions of pounds through the appeal fund, and still continues to spearhead fundraising for the charity today.

NEWS in brief

Plants plea to help beat thieves

POLICE are urging residents to grow plants around their gardens, sheds and garages in a bid to cut crime.

Officers say people should consider security to prevent thefts as they try to crack down on house burglaries.

Pc Angela Hodgetts, crime reduction officer in the Dudley borough, said: "This time of year has traditionally seen an increase in burglary and thefts from gardens and sheds. Homeowners can take some simple and cost-effective measures that can reduce chance of them becoming a victim."

Cash on offer for volunteer groups

VOLUNTARY and community groups in Dudley borough are being invited to bid for grants of up to £1,000 to help with the costs of running activities.

More than £28,000 is available by Dudley Community Partnership for groups that help increase employment opportunities and access to learning or improve health and wellbeing of people. Groups which encourage greater use of leisure activities or address crime are also welcome to apply.

Weight and see – 50st goes as mothers slim

Claire Lamsdale, front left, with her son William, aged two, health trainer Tim Ryall and Rebecca Flower and her grandson Mackenzie Flower-Rudge, three, and other mothers from the group who have lost weight

A GROUP of Black Country mums have lost more than 50 stones after joining forces to lose weight.

Around 30 women who attend the Mummy Mornings at Westfield Merry Hill Centre, Dudley, have each shed an average of more than a stone since starting the NHS weight loss programme nine weeks ago.

But it has given one slimmed-down mum a sizeable problem – a new wardrobe of clothes given to her by style guru Gok Wan in a makeover three years ago no longer fit.

"I was in size 14s then but now I am in size 10," said Mandy Moore, aged 39, of Oakfield Road, Wollasdale, Stourbridge.

"Since joining the Mummy Mornings weight loss programme I have gone down from 12st 6lb to 10st 8lb and I feel 100 per cent better.

"But most of the clothes I was given in Gok Wan's fashion fix three years ago are now too big, so I am having to get them tailored down."

Mrs Moore, mother of Erin, five, and 11-year-old Logan, said: "Even so, I'm glad I've lost the weight."

NHS Dudley's Health Exchange trainers have, since January, been attending the Mummy Mornings, held every Tuesday in the Eat Central area of Merry Hill.

Trying

On Tuesday of last week they saw just how well they were doing by trying on "fat suits", loaded up with weights to show how they looked before they slimmed down.

Next month there will be a prize for the "biggest loser" – the mum who has lost the most. Health trainer Tim Ryall said: "We are helping them to realise that by making small changes they can lose weight."

Paxman can keep his sneering

IT'S A Shame that Paxman has missed a golden opportunity to show he is more than just a brain with the ability to rave at university students for their ignorance and likewise at politicians.

His somewhat flippant take on the British Empire with all of its faults and all of its achievements in shaping the modern world is extremely poor and his final comments after viewing an excerpt from Gripping Yarns and describing the whole concept as 'absurd' summed up his shallow presentation.

I dare say next week, he will be in his element when discussing slavery and the Chinese opium trade. Surely a man of his intelligence should have the nous never to use 21st century norms as a yardstick when making judgements.

You cannot take events out of their historical timeframe. His comments on India the previous week showed a total lack of depth. Does he not understand that this was an age of empire building?

Britain just happened to gain the ascendancy. In the case of India, if it had not been the British, it would have been the Portuguese or French and later, in the so-called "Great Game", the Russians. Similarly, North American colonies would have been French.

One does not need to be a "my country right or wrong" Brit to see that many good things in the world are directly attributable to the empire and also eg. as in the Middle East conflicts that there is a flip side.

Sorry Paxo, please use your intellect rather than your sneers.

Support your local town and its stores

EVERY little helps or so a certain supermarket chain say. But this is not true certainly as far as they are concerned, because what they give you in one hand, they take back with the other.

When will people realise by shopping around you can get branded goods at a fraction of the price.

Although much is said about Dudley Town being rundown, my husband and I do most of our shopping there at much lower prices than supermarket prices. As far as Supermarket is concerned every little does help.

So come on support your local towns and forget the greedy supermarket who are not satisfied with selling food, but sell everything thus taking trade from lots of shops. No wonder towns are rundown.

OAPs have had to work for pensions

THANK you Mrs P A-Jordan for putting the case for OAPs so knowledgeably. It only remains for me to inform Lindsey Phillips that "in those days" we left school at 15 and at that time it was only the truly "gifted" school leavers who progressed to colleges and universities. The majority of us left and immediately entered full-time employment, often from the next day. There were no "years off" then. It was work or no money, our parents weren't able to subsidise us.

I am fully aware of the shortages of jobs at present and sincerely hope things change for the better soon. But, please do not keep "slagging off" the senior citizens. Without us being able to spend the fruits of our latter years, hard-earned savings the hotels would have fewer guests; coach companies would not be in business; theatres would close and travel agents would be hard pressed to sell their holidays. Also, because of the bus pass we are able to get to the out of town shops. Lindsey, I hope I at some time in the future I shall read about you becoming an MP, as least you had the interest to make a point (although, misguided).

MRS M SOUTHALL, Charles Road, Halesowen

Rail link needed more than city status

SO DUDLEY has lost out on its bid for city status. Well perhaps on reflection it is not bad thing.

Yes there is a lot going on at the moment in Dudley regarding redevelopment.

We have a zoo and the Black Country Living Museum being joined by a new roadway. Years ago we also had a railway station.

Now my question is to our councillors, why not consult with the government and network rail about rebuilding a railway station where the original was? People I am sure would willingly use it to Birmingham than travel on the 74 bus.

A journey of about 50mins if you're lucky. The station I am sure would benefit Dudley more than city status.

England with Billy Wright, captain, front, goalkeeper Bert Williams, centre rear, and Johnny Hancocks almost hidden

Ron Flowers, 49 caps for England and 515 appearances for Wolverhampton Wanderers

Bill Slater OBE, CBE BSc, captain of Wolves and an England international

Three England internationals with the FA Cup at Wembley in 1960 after Wolves beat Blackburn - Eddie Clamp, Bill Slater and Norman Deeley

Molineux men formed backbone of England

Billy Wright leads out England against Scotland for his 100th cap. Behind him are two more Wolves player, Peter Broadbent and Ron Flowers

Wolves winger Matt Jarvis has been making news by being picked for England's international squad, though he is yet to make his debut.

But there was a time when the national side was full of Wolves players. During the 1950s the England side always had a player from Molineux, and usually had several, on some occasions making up the entire half back line.

A fixture in the team throughout that time was William Ambrose Wright CBE, the first man in the world to play for his country 100 times. In fact Billy Wright won 105 times, and captained England a record 90 times.

He was the David Beckham of his day, famous throughout the world, married to a singer in a top girl group (Joy Beverley of the Beverley Sisters), and winning trophies with his club.

When Wright retired, it was his replacement in the Wolves team who succeeded him in the England team. Bill Slater had been capped 21 times in the England amateur team, and was a fixture as a half back alongside Billy

By Alec Brew

Wright throughout the 1950s, eventually being capped 12 times in the full England side and named Footballer of the Year in 1960.

On four occasions when Slater and Wright played together in the England team, the other half back was Wolves team-mate Eddie "Chopper" Clamp, and from 1955 another regular choice in the national half back line was Ron Flowers, whose international career was spread over 11 seasons and a total of 49 caps - the second highest of any Wolves player.

Machine

In the early 50s the England goalkeeper was the incomparable Bert Williams, who won 24 caps, and played in the 1950 and 1954 World Cup finals.

Considering the attacking style of Wolves teams, and the huge number of goals they scored, often netting more than a 100 a season, their forwards,

Bert "The Cat" Williams, 450 games for Wolves and 24 England caps surprisingly, did not win as many caps as their defenders.

Peter Broadbent, regarded by many fans as the best player ever to wear the gold and black, only played seven times for his country, blocked by the selectors' preference for Fulham's Johnny Haynes.

Superb wingers Jimmy Mullen (12 caps), Johnny Hancocks (three) and Norman Deeley (two) had Stanley Matthews and Tom Finney in their way, but goal-scoring machine Dennis Wilshaw might have expected more than his 12 caps. In one game Wilshaw became the first England player to score four goals.

Peter Broadbent, 497 games for Wolves and seven England caps

If Andy Carroll is worth £35 million to Liverpool, how much would a player who scored 10 goals in 12 internationals be worth today?

Since Flowers retired, only Steve Bull has been capped, so let's hope that Jarvis or a team-mate breaks the duck.

Fears for trade over bid to build major 'eco park'

Shauni aims to be a hit

Folk singer Shauni Foxall, aged 19, of Stourbridge

A folk musician is aiming for stardom when she takes to the stage to perform as part of a national talent search.

Shauni Foxall, from Albemarle Road, Stourbridge is hoping to be a hit at the Live and Unsigned event on April 29 in Brighton.

"I'm really excited about performing and I should have family and friends who will be coming down," said Shauni.

thechronicle

A £120 MILLION "eco park" featuring a supermarket, 200 homes and a waste processing plant could affect trade in Dudley, claim town centre bosses.

Under the proposals 1,300 jobs would be created if the development goes ahead on the 66-acre site in Coseley.

Business units would be built to house existing and new firms while a community hall and full-size football pitch would be created. The development also includes creation of three industrial estates.

They would stretch between Birmingham New Road and Sedgley Road West. But bosses at the Churchill Shopping Centre in Dudley fear it will take trade away from the town.

Derelict

They say there is no need for another store in the area as one is already planned for the derelict Cavendish House office block in the town centre.

A letter to Dudley Council on behalf of the precinct's owners London & Cambridge Properties says: "The retail element of the Coseley Eco Park application should be considered in this context, having the potential to prejudice convenience retail development within Dudley town centre, which is necessary to support the future viability of the centre."

An outline planning application for the eco park has been submitted.

Graham Willson, director of the site's owner, Skelton Group Investments, said the development was "exciting news for Dudley."

Continental cafe plans

A CONTINENTAL-STYLE cafe, bar and restaurant will open in September at an historic site in Dudley to coincide with the unveiling of the new £18 million Dudley College in Tower Street.

Work is to start on the transformation of the old Carver's Cafe in Stone Street Square. It has stood empty for almost a decade.

New cash puts football plans closer to kick-off

AN AMATEUR football club is celebrating a £50,000 cash boost which has taken it a step closer to being able to develop land for new pitches.

Kewford Eagles, which has 500 young players, wants to create a new headquarters by transforming 30 acres of land near Dudley Kingswinford Rugby Club, Wall Heath.

The club, has already raised around £500,000 to help pay towards the first stage of the works.

And officials last week said the award of £50,000 from Sport England's Olympic Legacy Fund was a major boost.

The club want to create 11 football pitches for teams ranging from under-7s to seniors. It hopes work on the pitches could start by late summer ready for the teams to play their first matches from September next year.

Club welfare officer, Lynn Boleyn, said bosses hoped the new facilities would help attract new members and give disabled players the chance to play football.

"We are extremely pleased to receive this award from Sport England, which will allow Kewford to construct a state of the art facility where children, including those with disabilities, can play football in a safe and secure environment," she said. "This will be a facility the whole community can be proud of and a legacy for future generations."

Officials will have to wait for around 12 months after the land is flattened and seeded before any matches can be played.

Watery way to fitness

PEOPLE can take part in new aqua aerobics sessions at Halesowen Leisure Centre. A qualified instructor leads the lessons for people aged 16 plus. They will get 15 minutes of swimming and 45 minutes of exercise to music. The classes, in Great Cornbow, will be on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. A ladies-only class runs every Monday. Aqua-fit costs £4.40 per session.

Church sees the light

The Rev Stephen Carter at St Andrew's Church, Netherton, which has had 40 solar panels fitted to its roof

A CHURCH in Dudley has become the first in the Diocese of Worcester to install solar panels to help cut energy bills.

Forty panels have been placed on the roof of the grade II listed St Andrew's Church, Netherton.

Church leaders needed to get permission from both Dudley Council and the Diocesan Advisory Committee (DAC) for the Care of Church Building before going ahead with the work, which has cost around £38,000.

The panels on the south-facing roof can produce up to 9.8kw of electricity and will save church leaders £500 a year.

The church will also receive cash for the electricity it produces and if the current rate stays the same, it will earn them around £3,300 a year.

Apprentice roars in to pick up the Lion Award

A STUDENT from Dudley showed some lion-heart spirit to pick up two awards at a national education ceremony in London.

Nicolas Rose took home the main accolade of the night – outstanding achiever of the year – at the Lion Awards, run by vocational education firm City & Guilds.

He was also named Further Education learner of the year at the ceremony. While studying, engineering apprentice Nicolas achieved four distinctions in the six elements required for his technical certificate.

Having joined his employer at the age of 16, he followed an apprenticeship scheme with MetSkill and the City of Wolverhampton College. The 20-year-old said he was overwhelmed to win a medal of excellence, let alone a Lion Award.

"I didn't know that I had been nominated for anything until I saw myself on the screen," he said. "I turned to my mum in amazement and said 'that's me'."

"Later on in the evening I was sat there enjoying the evening thinking I had my award, when it came to the last award of the night, the outstanding achiever of the year."

"They described the winner and in the back of my head I thought it sounded like me, but I didn't think I could be the winner."

"I remember seeing the look on my family's faces, seeing how proud they were." The awards are designed to celebrate the country's most inspiring achievers who have accomplished impressive results through practical learning.

The ceremony was hosted by BBC's The One Show presenter Alex Jones.

Robbery at newsagents

A HOSPITAL worker was attacked during a robbery at a newsagents in Dudley's Russells Hall Hospital. The 39-year-old was opening the shop when he was hit on the head. Police said cash was stolen at around 6am on March 23. The attacker fled the scene with another man in a blue Vauxhall Vectra. Detectives are looking for a 6ft 2ins, black man of slim build.

Nicolas Rose, from Dudley, collects an educational Lion Award from host Alex Jones of The One Show, and CEO and director general of City & Guilds, Chris Jones

Recognising the efforts made by savers of energy

ENERGY conscious businesses, residents, community groups and schools in Dudley are being sought for an award that has a cash prize.

Dudley Climate Change Group's Energy Heroes Awards recognises achievements made by organisations and individuals in energy saving or generating renewable energy. Judges will be looking for projects that have helped to reduce energy use in the last year.

Applications could include activities such as installing energy saving measures in homes or businesses, installing renewable energy generation technologies such as solar panels, walking buses for schoolchildren or awareness raising projects.

There are two categories, a community one for households, schools, voluntary and community groups and a category private sector businesses and not-for-profit organisations. The deadline for entries is April 30. Call 01384 814756 or visit www.dudleylsp.org/energyheroes

Singer star tops festival

A SINGER who has performed lead roles in West End and Broadway musicals has been announced as the headline act for a new festival in Stourbridge.

Kerry Ellis will top the bill at SMARTFest in Mary Stevens Park on August 11. She made her West End stage debut in the 2001 revival of My Fair Lady and has since performed lead roles in We Will Rock You, Les Misérables, Wicked, Chess and Oliver in London and on Broadway. In 2010 she collaborated with Queen guitarist Brian May on her debut album Anthems.

Last pint for pub mooted

A BOARDED-UP pub in Stourbridge could have pulled its last pint after developers revealed plans to transform the building into six new flats.

The Red Lion, in the Old Quarter area, has lain empty for years and has become an eyesore. Solid metal grids were put up on its windows in a bid to stop vandal attacks.

But graffiti has been sprayed around the building which stands on the junction of Lion Street and Green Street. Stourbridge-based PCF Developments is behind the plans to redevelop the pub. Scaffolding has already been erected at the site. The firm is seeking to convert the building into six one-bedroom flats and demolish an existing boundary wall to create a car park.

Four parking bays would be created off Lion Street along with two off-street spaces at the junction.

Margaret Scott, chairman of community watchdog group Stourbridge Township Council, said the pub had become an eyesore and people living nearby would be pleased something was being done.

Vandals

"Often with all these pubs closing, they just finish up being a place targeted by vandals and arsonists," she said.

"I think that if there is an opportunity to convert them into something useful then that would be better as there would be a use for the building."

Applicant Peter Robbins, in a report to Dudley Council's planning department, said: "The property is not typical of period public houses built in the Stourbridge area and therefore has local and architectural merit."

"The current property is situated within the centre of a residential area, just off Stourbridge ring road.

"However, current trends has seen over the years a dramatic downturn in trade."

"Therefore in order to retain the premises, the proposal is to convert and extend to form six low-cost apartments within this residential area."

A decision on the scheme is likely to be taken in the next few weeks.

Minister invited for talks over town centre future

A GOVERNMENT minister has been invited to meet traders to discuss how to revive Dudley town centre as it bids to be chosen for a project aiming to save Britain's struggling high streets.

The town is vying to become one of 12 towns to trial recommendations from retail guru Mary Portas and earn a slice of £1 million to boost trade.

Dudley North MP Ian Austin has invited Housing Minister Grant Shapps to meet traders and shoppers to discuss ways to revive the town centre, which has been labelled as the worst in the country for empty shops.

Mr Austin, who is backing Dudley's bid, said: "This is a positive development and gives us a good chance to sell the town. Being selected as a Portas Pilot would give Dudley a real boost."

"It would show the importance of new ideas and new thinking to boost investment and help get the high street back on its feet."

Concerts

"I want to see concerts and plays in the castle and I want to see a university campus in Dudley to attract more visitors, extra investment and new jobs to the area."

Some 29 per cent of shops in Dudley are empty, giving it the highest vacancy rate of any medium sized town in the country.

Councils have until March 30 to apply for selection.

Jessica wins through to semi-finals of Miss Teen

Jessica Hopkins, from Dudley, is in the semi-finals of Miss Teen Great Britain 2012

App for busy students

STUDENTS at Dudley College can now access their course assignments and check their grades on their phones through a new Blackboard App. It will allow them to download information for free to help keep on top of their work while on the go. It also let them view documents and interact through on-line discussion boards. Learning resources manager Richard Gibbons said: "It's really important that we embrace technology to support our students."

A SCHOOLGIRL from Dudley has won a place in the semi-finals of a nationwide beauty pageant. Jessica Hopkins, aged 15, from Milking Bank, is competing to become Miss Teen Great Britain 2012.

The pageant, aimed at 13-18 year old girls, is seeking 60 finalists to fight for the crown as well as a £1,000 prize.

Jessica, a pupil at St Dominic's High School for Girls, Brewood, said: "Making it to the grand final would be a dream come true - fingers crossed I will be able to represent my hometown and win the Miss Teen Great Britain crown."

After being scouted at the Clothes Show in Birmingham, Jessica will now have to fill in an extensive application stating what she would do if she won the title.

Celebrity

The questions are designed to give judges an overall impression of each semi-finalist's personality.

Jessica has chosen singer Cher Lloyd as the celebrity she would compare herself to after regularly being told she resembles the X-Factor star.

The judging panel will then decide if Jessica's answers and photographs show that she has what it takes to be a finalist.

The teenager currently has plans to pursue a career in dance and drama after completing her GCSEs, with

Cher Lloyd, who Jessica compares herself to modelling being a step in the right direction.

The grand final will take place at The Globe in Blackpool in September where finalists get to spend the weekend taking part in photo-shoots and enjoying the rides at Blackpool Pleasure Beach.

Appeal to help turn old club building into cafe

A DERELICT former labour club in Brierley Hill could be given a new lease of life as a community cafe.

Members of the group, Insight for Carers, want to open up the boarded-up building in Pearson Street which has stood empty for two years.

But they are rallying tradesmen and volunteers to help them make the project a reality.

The group was set up three years ago by carer Marc Carter.

Offering support to carers, the group has been based at the Brierley Hill Project, in South Street, where members have run a cafe.

But due to the success and popularity of the service, members wanted to secure bigger premises and have taken up a lease on the labour club.

"We have been so grateful to the support of the Brierley Hill Project but we have been lucky enough to find our own place," Mr Carter said.

Creating

"Carers often feel so isolated and alone and they don't ask for much so we just try to offer support."

Plans include creating a new cafe and a sensory room.

But the group need help with the substantial building works including fitting a heating and hot water system.

The group is seeking decorators, plasterers and electricians who came give time to help out building materials.

Windows also need replacing and new doors fitted to the empty building.

Project co-ordinator Loraine Stockton added: "We are hoping that it will be a thriving centre for the community."

"The main structure of the building is fine but a lot of work is still

Princes Trust volunteers Jonathan Fowkes, left, and Tim Flower in what was the lounge area of the former labour club needed. "It will be for carers predominantly but we're also inviting the public to come down."

Insight for Carers is applying for charity status to help it with its future fundraising efforts.

But Mr Carter said any donation or assistance to help the new venture would be gratefully received.

Anyone able to help is asked to call Loraine Stockton on 07817 320517 or email loraine@insightforcarers.org

Council's recycling bid for government funds

DUDLEY Council is planning to bid for a multi-million pound government grant to increase waste collections and boost recycling rates.

About £250 million has been made available by the Government to support councils in providing weekly domestic waste collections.

The local authority plans to roll out a full recycling service if it secures around £2.3m from ministers.

Sandwell and Wolverhampton councils have also signalled interest in applying for money.

A new fleet of recycling collection vehicles will be bought with the cash by Dudley Council, if successful, while schools would receive a recycling service for collecting paper and cardboard.

About 11,000 homes have already been part of trial kerbside collection scheme in Dudley since October 2010, with participation numbers up to an average of 87 per cent.

In a report to council leader Councillor Les Jones, officers said the public response in the trial areas has been "excellent".

He added: "A full borough roll-out would eventually result in increased recycling income and a corresponding decrease in waste disposal costs, which would cover ongoing revenue costs at the end of the [three-year] grant period."

The council is currently working on its bid and successful authorities will be notified in October.

Village hall upkeep sale

PEOPLE can pick up a bargain at a village table-top sale near Stourbridge, next month. The sale, at Stourton Village Hall, Bridgnorth Road, will be held on April 28, from 10am to 1pm. Villagers are being urged to book a table for £10. Money raised from the event goes back into funding the upkeep of the hall. For information call Margaret Rogers on 01384 872073.

Oh deer, a bad hair day

Assistant curator Richard Brown with one of the male reindeer

THREE male reindeer at Dudley Zoo are having a "bad hair day" as they shed the fur covering their antlers. Visitors have commented on the soft fur hanging down from the animals' antlers.

But staff at the zoo said it is normal and the reindeer will lose all of their antlers in just a few weeks time. They will then grow back. Assistant curator Richard Brown said: "Visitors have commented on the strange looking antlers but it is nothing to worry about."

Zoo spokesman Jill Hitchman added: "It is fair to say the male reindeer are having a bad hair day at the moment."

Suffered Medical Negligence?

Medical or clinical negligence is when poor or inaccurate health care causes pain, injury, or even death.

Have you or a loved one been the victim of:

- Hospital Negligence
- GP Negligence
- Dental Negligence
- Cosmetic Surgery Errors
- Negligence by a Medical Professional

SR1 Claims is an award winning company that has a specialist department which is solely dedicated to assisting victims of medical negligence across the UK and helping them access justice.

Due to medical negligence being a complex area of law, SR1 works with a specialist panel of some of the leading medical negligence solicitors and barristers in the UK. SR1 aims to help achieve justice, raise clinical standards, get victims the compensation that they deserve and do this at no cost to the victim or the family who is making the claim.

For the peace of mind of its clients the SR1 panel specialises in working under both a No Win No Fee basis, ensuring that victims receive 100% Compensation, or, using legal aid funding (subject to eligibility).

SR1 has helped many victims and families to access justice without the financial risks. These include:

- Defective Hip Surgery
- GP Negligence
- Hospital Negligence
- Birth Injuries
- Surgical Errors
- Cosmetic Surgery Errors
- Dental Negligence Claims
- Cancer Misdiagnosis
- Spinal & Brain Injuries
- Delay in Treatment
- Wrongful Death
- Misdiagnosed Fractures
- Amputation Errors
- Other Medical Negligence

In successful cases the medical negligence solicitors have experience in recovering:

- 100% Compensation
- Loss of Earnings
- Private Medical Treatment Costs
- Rehabilitation & Care Costs
- Out of Pocket Expenses

Not sure if you're entitled to a claim? SR1 offers free advice & will carry out a free claim assessment, under no obligation.

Gathering as mosque opens

HUNDREDS of worshippers and special guests gathered for the opening of a mosque at former church in Halesowen.

Followers from the Ahmadiyya Islamic Community saw the movement's world leader, His Holiness Hadhrat Mirza Masroor Ahmad, inaugurate the mosque in Long Lane, Halesowen.

The building had been a Methodist church until 2009.

Group president Muhammad Yaseen Khan said after the opening last week the building would not only provide places to pray, but facilities for religious classes and language lessons teaching Punjabi and Urdu.

President of the Long Lane Ahmadiyya Muslim Association, Dr Masood Majoka, said the mosque can accommodate 600 people.

He said: "We have been looking forward to this day for a long time."

"In recent weeks the activity has really picked up and a lot of hard work has gone into the project."

Activity

"I don't think anyone who saw the old building before would recognise it now, as we have fitted out new prayer and activity rooms."

"We are extremely pleased to finally be able to welcome the community to our mosque."

The Baitul Ghafoor mosque which has opened in Halesowen

Retirement home staff admit falsifying records

TWO members of staff at the former retirement home which closed as a police investigation was launched there have admitted falsifying records of drugs used there and been cautioned.

But the police probe failed to find any evidence of mistreatment of residents at Westfield Lodge, Stourbridge.

Detectives began investigating after the Care Quality Commission raised concerns following an inspection at Westfield Lodge last summer.

Police have now revealed that two members of staff have been cautioned for falsifying records in the home's drugs book.

West Midlands Police spokesman Lee Page said last week that the investigation had now been concluded. "Two members of staff at Westfield Lodge have received police cautions related to falsifying a document by making alterations to 'drug records,'" he added.

"However we found no evidence of mistreatment of residents."

Sale

"The investigation has established that there was general mismanagement at the home, rather than mistreatment of anyone."

The members of staff accepted a caution, which is an acknowledgement of guilt in a minor offence but does not lead to prosecution in court.

Westfield Lodge is for sale at £500,000.

Special teams may deal with the yob behaviour

DEDICATED teams for dealing with anti-social behaviour in Dudley are among plans being devised by council officials.

The staff are working with police and other community organisations on a new plan.

Proposals follow a review by Safe & Sound, Dudley's community safety partnership, on how anti-social behaviour complaints are dealt with and how to make it easier for victims to report problems.

Council bosses say the new scheme will be revealed in full this summer.

But they have hinted that these will include the creation of dedicated teams of officials to deal with complaints from tenants.

They are also looking at possible changes to diary sheets used to log crimes.

Dudley Council housing cabinet member, Councillor Adrian Turner, said: "Having listened to tenants it was clear there were ways we could improve how we tackled anti-social behaviour."

Tree planting to celebrate jubilee

VOLUNTEERS have planted 420 trees to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Members of the Kingswinford and Stourbridge Lions worked with Dudley Council to plant the trees at Stevens Park and Old Swinford Common, Stourbridge.

The Woodland Trust funded the work as part of a year-long planting project, which will see six million trees being planted across the UK by over a million volunteers.

Mike Blaxland, president of club said: "The Lions club is proud to be working with Dudley Council and the Woodland Trust to plant these new trees."

"This is a wonderful opportunity to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee year."

Beacon shines yet again

Camra chairman Stan Stephens and Alex Marchant at The Beacon Hotel

AN AWARD-WINNING pub in the Black Country has received another honour.

The Beacon Hotel, Bilston Street, Sedgley, has been named 2012 pub of the year by the Dudley and South Staffs branch of Camra it is the fifth time in a row the pub has won.

The final shortlist had included The Black Bear, Lower Gornal, The New Inn, Wombourne, The New Inn, Wordsley, and The Old Hop Pole, West Bromwich. Manager Alex Marchant, aged 26, said: "It is a great privilege to be recognised five years in a row. It's a sign real ale continues to thrive despite the economic climate. We are a traditional pub. We don't serve food, there's no music or sport, we just serve real ale. "We pride ourselves on good quality ale and customer service."

THE WAY I SEE IT

Pursuing the clampdown on scourge of metal thefts

IN THE Commons I asked the Environment Secretary to update the House on the clampdown against metal theft and asked the Welsh Secretary about lightening burdens on business.

The Chancellor, George Osborne, delivered a radical, reforming Budget last week.

Whilst there were many difficult choices — including personal allowances for pensioners — this was a Budget that helps Britain earn its way in the world; a Budget that rewards work and puts Government on the side of those who aspire to do better for themselves and their families.

I was particularly pleased that 24 million income taxpayers will, as a direct result of the largest ever increase in the personal allowance, pay less income tax.

Together with previous increases, this means this Government will have taken 2 million of the lowest paid out of tax altogether, and basic rate taxpayers will be up to £526 better off.

I was also pleased the Budget unashamedly backed business, large and small.

The Government is right to be simplifying small business taxes and has cut corporation tax again.

This means we are on our way to a 22 percent corporation tax rate — one of the lowest in the world — which is good news for jobs and investment here in Dudley and the Black Country.

Pensioners

This Government is committed to supporting pensioners.

The biggest ever rise in the Dudley South Conservative MP Chris Kelly takes the stand in our weekly Chronicle column which gives our local representatives the chance to air their views on issues that matter

"The changes to allowances announced in the Budget simplify a very complex area of the tax system and move us towards a simple system in which everyone has the same personal allowance."

state pension has already been announced as a result of the Government's triple lock, as well as protecting key pensioner benefits such as winter fuel payments, free prescriptions and eye tests, free bus travel and free TV licences for older pensioners.

The changes to allowances announced in the Budget simplify a very complex area of the tax system and move us towards a simple system in which everyone has the same personal allowance.

Nobody will pay more tax in 2013/14 than 2012/13 as a result of these measures and there are no cash losers as a result of the changes.

Even after the change, half of those over 65 will not pay tax in 2013/14. More than five million of the poorest pensioners remain unaffected and everyone is still better off as a result of the increase in the basic state pension.

After the Budget speech I was delighted to welcome children from Bromley-Pensnett Primary School to Parliament having also recently visited the school.

The National Loan Guarantee Scheme has now begun operating — a real example of Government supporting small businesses.

The scheme will help businesses access cheaper finance by reducing the cost of bank loans under the scheme by one percentage point. Firms with a turnover of £50 million should visit www.hm-treasury.gov.uk/nlg to find out more.

The Government is acting to deal with the shortage of new and affordable housing — a significant problem, particularly for first time buyers. So the NewBuy guarantee scheme is now available to help more people get on the housing ladder via NewBuy.org.uk.

I spent a very pleasant Saturday morning with Himley Hall Sailing Club.

Memberships are available with all ages and abilities encouraged — see www.himleyhalls.org.uk

I attended Council House for a quarterly meeting of borough MPs with the Chief Executive of Dudley Council and Cllr Les Jones, Leader of the Council, followed by the Mayor's Civic Awards.

In between I also attended and addressed Wordsley Mast Action's packed public meeting at Belle Vue Primary School, Wordsley.

Library

I was pleased to attend the official opening of the newly improved Brierley Hill Library — where I hold regular constituency advice surgeries — alongside Cllr Adrian Turner, Cabinet Member for Housing, Libraries and Adult Learning. Our libraries are a real credit to our borough seven-days-a-week and have free WiFi — see www.dudley.gov.uk/libraries.

I'm training hard for the London marathon on Sunday April 22 for the Dudley Group of Hospitals Charity plus Action Heart at Russells Hall Hospital. To sponsor me see www.chriskellymp.com.

Finally, I have upgraded my Facebook group which is now even more interactive — www.dudleyconservatives.com/facebook.

CLUB NEWS

Talk topic was canal navigation

KINGSWINFORD & DISTRICT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

THE speaker at the March meeting was Dr Peter King and his subject was "Andrew Yarrington and the Stour Navigation".

After a delayed start due to audio visual problems Dr King told of Andrew Yarrington's early life. He was born in Astley Parish in Worcestershire around 1616. After being a shop assistant he became involved in mills and forges in the iron industry and after spending time in the Army surveyed the River Stour with a view to making it navigable from Stourbridge to Kidderminster.

An Act of Parliament had been passed in 1662 to make the river navigable to enable coal and iron to be carried to the River Severn. In 1664 Yarrington embarked on a scheme to make this possible from Stourbridge to Kidderminster.

Canal navigation eventually overtook the viability of the river.

The next meeting is on Monday April 2 when Dr Paul Collins makes a return visit to talk on "Dudley Living Memories".

All are welcome at 7.30pm at the Community Centre, High Street, Kingswinford. Further details from Brenda Arthur on 01384 291593 or Ron Julian, 01384 295848.

Colleagues take it to the bridge

Kidderminster and Stourbridge Soroptimists take part in the "Join Me on the Bridge" campaign

SOROPTIMISTS around the world celebrated International Women's Day on March 8.

This day celebrates the economic, political and social achievements of women past, present and future. Kidderminster Soroptimists marked the occasion by standing with Stourbridge club members on the stone bridge in the grounds of Himley Hall for the "Join Me on the Bridge" campaign.

The global campaign has a theme of peace and development.

On Saturday 10 March, six club members attended the spring Midland Arden regional meeting hosted by SI Coventry at Wolston.

Christine marks milestone

THE annual general meeting was introduced by chairman Dorothy Bailey on March 8.

Federation chairman Jean Parsons attended and presented Christine Clifford with her 40-year membership certificate and a letter from the national chairman.

A representative from Compton Hospice was given a cheque for £300. All members of the guild and the committee were thanked for their continued support. Tea, coffee and cakes rounded off a very pleasant evening.

WOMBOURNE E TWG

A visit to the Grand

KIDDERMINSTER SOROPTIMISTS

Regional president Ruth Longville welcomed members from the 13 clubs in the region which stretches from Birmingham West to Hereford.

Wendy Friar was a very inspiring speaker. She instigated the Black Country Food Bank, based in Halesowen, a volunteer-run centre with a Christian ethos which opened in 2006. For more details about the club, email kidderminstersorop@gmail.com or visit <http://sigbi.org>

Theatre to see Half a Sixpence was very enjoyable. The guild is planning to go to Masson Mills Shopping Village and Arkwright's Mill in Derbyshire on May 17. Seats on the coach are still available. The next meeting will be on April 12 at the community centre at 7.30pm. Mike Wilkes' talk will be on 'Spring in Spain'.

'Capital' of Black Country has reasons to be proud

DUDLEY is traditionally acknowledged as the capital of the Black Country.

From the medieval castle which towers majestically over the town to its world-famous limestone caves beneath its streets, it has plenty of reasons to be proud.

Dudley Zoo, which this year celebrates its 75th anniversary, attracts thousands of visitors every year who pour through the gates to see hundreds of animals, including a large number of endangered species.

The 40-acre site is also home to the ruined 11th century Dudley Castle and the world's largest single collection of Modernist Tecton structures, many are still used as animal enclosures today.

Just a short distance away is the Black Country Living Museum, an open-air site where people are taken back in time with the help of costumed guides and authentic shops, houses and workshops.

Classed

Dudley Canal Trust runs trips through the caverns and tunnels beneath the town giving people an insight into the town's geological, archaeological and engineering heritage.

Opposite the museum site is the Castle Gate entertainment complex, which offers a cinema, bowling alley and an array of restaurants.

Other attractions around the town include Dudley Museum and Art Gallery, located near the Dudley Council offices in St James's Road, and Priory Park.

The park is home to the ruins of the medieval Priory of St James's, which is classed as an ancient monument.

It is set to be given a £2.6 million revamp,

The iconic entrance to Dudley Zoo, which year celebrates its 75th anniversary, has welcomed generations of families from the Black Country and further afield through its gates with the help of Heritage Lottery Fund funding, which will include an extension of the old pavilion to include a green classroom to train local people in horticultural skills.

A bronze sculpture of Dudley tennis heroine Dorothy Round will also be installed.

Dudley's famous sons include footballer Duncan Edwards who was born in the town in 1936 and considered one of the greatest footballers of his generation.

Sadly he died aged just 21 alongside many of his Manchester United team mates 15 days after the Munich Air Disaster in 1958.

Today a statue honouring him stands in Dudley's market place. It is due to move to a new location to give it pride of place in the town centre as part of a £6 million revamp of the market place.

While the Dudley is proud of its past, the town is always looking towards the future.

Work is under way on a £30 million university-style campus for Dudley College, which will include a vocation centre. It is being built on the site of the former fire station in Tower Street.

Architects have preserved the original facade of the building to pay homage to its history.

It will be followed by a new sixth form and higher education centre which is being constructed in nearby Priory Road.

Just a few miles away lies Brierley Hill, which is home to two bustling traditional markets. Families can shop to their drop at the Merry Hill centre.

The Westfield-owned shopping complex has more than 200 stores under one roof as well as an extensive food court offering a range of dining delights.

Visitors can also enjoy a stroll along the waterfront with its canal and bars by the Copthorne Hotel or enjoy a show at nearby Brierley Hill Civic Hall.

The statue of Duncan Edwards is due to take pride of place in the revamped market

The restored trams are always a big attraction at the Black Country Living Museum

Community information guide - imag

Perk up the patio by planting pots of fun

Out of the Blue ready planted mix for hanging baskets

Suttons' Lizzano cascading variety of cherry tomatoes

PATIO pots and hanging baskets are an essential part of a modern patio.

Although we like to have some productive areas containing tomatoes and peppers, decorative flowers are the essential elements of patio gardening.

Plant breeders have been working hard over the years to provide us with a wide range of container flowers and easier ways to ensure perfect baskets and patio pots.

KinderPlanters, available from garden centres from April onwards, are pre-planted net pots that are ready to 'drop' directly into baskets and containers.

Simply line the container with moisture control compost and drop in the planted net. Fill in compost around the root ball, water well and watch it grow. It's an ideal system if you are short of time or you don't have a clue on how to mix colours, plant types and foliage textures.

There are five collections with explanatory names such as Out of the Blue, Pretty in Pink, Firecracker, Fabulous Foliage and White Delight. Patio planting just got that little bit easier.

Tomatoes are another essential part of patio gardening.

This year I will be again growing a new cascading cherry variety Lizzano from Suttons in my raised bed.

Last year I found that with the help of Miracle-Gro slow release plant food granules and a large rooting area a similar tumbling variety produced an excellent crop.

Also it's time I grew some hot chilli peppers for the kitchen. A recent introduction is Apache. It's a dwarf variety with a compact habit bearing a high yield of medium-hot red peppers.

Coldest

February is usually the coldest month of the year and this is when I wrap delicate patio pots such as my fig tree (Brown Turkey) up in an extra layer of fleece to protect the fruits that set last year.

Keeping off the worst of the frosts will ensure these swell during the summer to provide tasty fruits.

N. D. Walters was established in 1978 by Norman Walters and with his Son Nick and Wife Sandra, they built an enviable reputation within the carpet industry. Sadly Norman died in November 2011 but both Nick and Sandra are determined to carry on the fantastic work Norman started.

N. D. Walters Ltd - based in Sedgley - is a carpet and hardwood company, specialising in quality floorings of all types including carpets, laminates, vinyls and rugs.

In order to provide a consistently high level of service they have employed skilled professionals and dedicated staff.

The team have worked hard to build an enviable reputation for service and value-for-money throughout the West Midlands.

A visit to the sizeable carpet and flooring warehouse comes highly recommended and customers will be spoilt for choice with thousands of ranges to choose from.

N. D. Walters is an independent family-run firm with membership to the Greendale Group - the largest carpet and flooring buying company in the UK. "Being a member of Greendale means that we can offer a huge range of products but can compete in terms price too," explains Nick Walters.

He adds: "We stock all the top brand names in flooring, such as Ulster, Axminster, Brinton and Karndean to name just a few - all at genuinely low price."

There is an impressive range of products and staff pride themselves in providing top quality service to all their customers.

"When helping and advising customers, it's important we treat people in the way we would like to be treated ourselves," says Nick. He adds: "The numerous thank you letters from satisfied customers, displayed on the office wall is testament to this."

N. D. Walters is highly recommended by The Carpet Foundation, an independent organisation approved by the Office of Fair Trading.

The Foundation monitors and checks companies to ensure standards of quality and service. The quality of the company's products, together with a high standard of customer service also extends to commercial industries.

A number of companies requirements are met by N. D. Walters and they are also a preferred supplier to the Insurance Replacement Industry with clients such as Direct Line, Royal and Sun Alliance, Barclays, Legal and General.

N.D. Walters is an ideal place to begin looking for a new carpet or flooring, log onto www.ndwalterscarpets.com for more information or call 01902 883281.

Alternatively visit the warehouse on Dudley Road - open Monday-Friday from 9am to 6pm and on Saturday from 9am to 5pm.

BBC1, 9.10pm

Jordan's date with Yvonne is put on hold when a former ED patient collapses in prison after being arrested for assaulting Lloyd. The incident threatens the pairs blossoming relationship as it becomes apparent one of them may be held accountable for the unwell man being left in a cell. Meanwhile, a 14-year-old girl gives birth at home, and her sister plants the unwanted baby in Jeff and Dixie's ambulance. Linda and Zoe later encounter the teenager while on a night out, and are quickly sobered by the realisation that she is haemorrhaging and in need of urgent medical attention. The cast includes Michael French, Sunetra Sarker and Christine Tremarco.

PERSPECTIVES: LENNY HENRY - FINDING SHAKESPEARE

ITV1, 10.15pm

In 2009 Lenny Henry made his debut as Othello at the West Yorkshire Playhouse; Henry's performance was hugely praised, and the production transferred to the West End. More recently he's starred in the National Theatre's acclaimed take on The Comedy of Errors. Not bad going for a guy who once claimed he had a deep-seated aversion to Shakespeare, especially his "gobbie-de-gook" language. Now Henry wants the rest of us to embrace the Bard, just as he's done, and he makes a start by hosting this documentary.

An extended four-bedroom detached in Wordsley area

A CONSIDERABLY extended detached four-bedroom home in Mellowdew Road, Wordsley, is on the market priced at £259,950.

The property is conveniently located for excellent schooling, a selection of local shops and with easy access to the centre of Kingswinford. It also benefits from warm air central heating and uPVC double glazing.

On the ground floor is a reception hall measuring 15ft by 6ft 10in while the extended L-shaped lounge is 28ft by 10ft 1in and has a gas fire with Cotswold stone feature fireplace and patio window to the rear garden.

An extended breakfast kitchen, 15ft 7in by 11ft 4in, has a range of units and work surfaces, stainless steel double sink drainer with mixer tap, plumbing for automatic washing machine, integrated electric hob, cooker hood above, integrated double oven, plumbing for dishwasher and breakfast bar.

There is a separate dining room, 1ft 7in by 8ft 7in, and a small lobby area with door to the garage.

On the first floor are four bedrooms and a bathroom with suite including panel bath with electric shower, wash basin with vanity unit and separate wc.

Outside to the front is a driveway with of road parking, garage and gated access to the rear garden which is landscaped and laid out for low maintenance including L-shaped patio area, step to second paved patio, timber shed and raised border with plants and shrubs.

Nissan engine to provide power for the DeltaWing

GETTING involved in motorsport is a sure-fire way of boosting the profile of your production car range – which is why all the premium players have a finger in some sort of racing or rallying pie.

The trouble is, motorsport is a very expensive business, and blasting out fastest laps doesn't really chime with the greener approach to motoring that most manufacturers want to promote.

This week, however, Nissan announced its partnership in the DeltaWing concept,

By David Banner

an experimental race car that will be taking part in the Le Mans 24 Hours this year.

Strictly speaking, the DeltaWing won't be competing – it is not eligible for outright honours – but instead has been awarded a place by the Automobile Club de l'Ouest (ACO), the organisers of the legendary race.

It will run out of Garage 56, a spot reserved for experimental cars.

Nissan's major involvement is providing the motive power; its 1.6-litre direct-injection turbocharged engine, already seen in the Juke road car, will power the DeltaWing.

Tuned to 300bhp, it will still be providing half as much power as the front-runners, but crucially use half as much fuel.

Yet the advanced delta-wing aerodynamics (seen on planes such as Concorde and the Vulcan) promises outright lap times that will be on par with the LMP2 runners.

Paul Wilcox, senior vice president, Nissan in Europe, says: "Nissan is a very innovative, forward-thinking company prepared to take a risk or two."

"And exactly the same applies to Nissan DeltaWing. Our involvement in the project shows the boldness of Nissan from an engineering and innovation mindset."

The only shame is that the DeltaWing has to run under the banner of an experiment. It would be even more exciting if it were allowed to compete on level terms and secured an impressive finish, all the while using less fuel, fewer tyres and making fewer pit stops. That really would be an example of racing improving the road car.

The hi-tech end of motorsport is highly expensive

Van-tastic – the 2012 Citroën Berlingo comes with a choice of one petrol and four diesel powertrains

Berlingo leads the way in high cube van field

IN THE high cube F1 van segment (up to 2,500kg gvw), Citroën's Berlingo has beaten its rivals to gain top spot for the first two months of 2012.

During January and February, Citroën sold 1,345 Berlingos to take the leading position – and an amazing 24.1 per cent share – of this very competitive sector.

Scott Michael, Citroën's Commercial Vehicle Operations Manager, commented: "When the economy is facing a tough time and money is tight, its quality and low running costs that tempt buyers to invest in new vans. The Berlingo provides all the quality, low whole life costs and versatility the market demands, as its sector leadership shows in the opening months of 2012. Euro 5 Berlingo sales for January and February 2012 were 9.6 per cent ahead of the second place manufacturer, 11 per cent ahead of the third place contender and more than outsold the fourth and fifth place manufacturers combined."

"The Berlingo's market appeal will only get stronger when the latest updated models go on sale next month. The 2012 model Berlingo is even more economical and has even lower emissions, something which will really give buyers something extra to think about when choosing their vans in this highly competitive sector," Michael added.

The 2012 Berlingo range, which makes its CV Show debut in April, is the most versatile high cube van range available in the UK. It is offered, dependent on model, with a choice of three trim levels and five powertrains (1 petrol/4 diesel).

As part of this powertrain choice, the 2012 Berlingo includes the advanced e-HDi 90 Airdream EGS6, which features micro-hybrid technology with Stop & Start and a six-speed automated manual gearbox that delivers CO2 emissions of just 123g/km and combined cycle fuel economy figure of 60.1mpg.

All 2012 Berlingo panel vans are fitted, with Citroën's Trafficmaster Smartnav satellite navigation system.

TIPS OF THE WEEK

In these days of rising energy bills you may consider renewable technologies to save you money but before you invest in any renewable technologies you should always make sure your home is thoroughly insulated in order to make the maximum savings. Take advice from a local builder and The Federation of Master Builders. When starting a building project always use a contract which should include details such as start and completion dates, costs and payment plan. You can download a free contract from the Federation of Master Builders (FMB), the largest trade association in the UK construction industry, <http://www.fmb.org.uk/find-a-builder/free-contracts/>.

Protect your investment in your home by getting building work covered by an insurance-backed warranty, such as those offered by Build Assure. Build Assure offer a wide range of insurance products to suit your individual requirements and building project. Visit www.fmbuildassure.co.uk to find out more.

Two days of fun as Villa stars turn out

STOURBRIDGE'S big clash with Evo-Stik Southern Premier League leaders Brackley is just the start of the fun at the War Memorial Ground this weekend.

The club will host their community day before Saturday's game. All children will go in free to the game on Saturday, while general admission is £5.

Entertainment has been laid on for 1pm. Outside the ground, there will be a tombola, fairground stalls, inflatable slides and a bouncy castle, with the forecast good for warm weather.

Then, on the Sunday, Stourbridge Old Boys will face Aston Villa All Stars at 2pm in a charity game for Callum Loveridge.

Callum broke four bones in his neck and severed his spinal chord after a BMX bike stunt went wrong two years ago. The teenager from Norton was left paralysed from the neck down. The proceeds from the game will be donated to him.

Turning out for Stourbridge will be the club's manager Gary Hackett, his assistant Jon Ford, coach Mark Clifton and board member Andy Ballingham.

Gordon Cowans, Colin Gibson, Tony Morley and Des Bremner from Villa's 1982 European Cup-winning team will play along with former England internationals Lee Hendrie and Mark Walters. Admission is £5 with entertainment from midday.

DK into play-offs after four-try victory

Dudley Kingswinford 24 Newport 0

DUDLEY KINGSWINFORD secured a home play-off place in National League Three Midlands with this fine win against a strong Newport side.

Their likely opponents at Heathbrook are Lancashire side Rossendale.

Newport put up stern resistance but were well beaten up front in the set scrums and struggled to cope with free-flowing rugby that swept the home side into a 19-0, three-try lead at the break.

DK added a fourth try just after half-time and despite a big effort by the visitors in the last 25 minutes, the DK cover defence ensured there was just no way through.

This was easily the most physical game seen at Heathbrook this season, though mostly played in the right spirit. The DK front five were tremendous throughout in front of a 500-plus crowd.

The home side took the lead seven minutes into the game. Two big tackles from Stefan Thorp and James Jefferson saw the ball passed widely under pressure for the watchful Jon Tideswell to intercept and sprint over in the corner for an unconverted try.

Newport second row Duncan Kelly was yellow-carded after 10 minutes for tackling off the ball and a minute later DK scored the try of the game. Quick ball from Jordan Brookes and Jon Higgins put Stefan Shillingford away for a strong break through the middle.

He fended off a couple of tackles before flicking the sweetest of passes behind his back to James Jefferson, coming through at pace and an acute angle. He still had plenty to do, but managed to elude two more tacklers over 30m before scoring. Higgins converted.

DK scored a third try after 15 minutes. Fluent passing put Pete Knight in space and he drew a defender before handing on to Ollie Shakespeare for the big man to score in the corner. Higgins' fine conversion made it 19-0.

Newport came out for the second half with renewed belief but DK scored a fine fourth try in the 48th minute to earn the bonus point.

A smooth attack led by Higgins put the dangerous Shillingford into space. He shredded the cover and put Matt Farrington away with an inside pass for the winger to hare 30m to the line.

Things got worse for Newport when centre Tomasi Tanumi received a straight red card on 51 minutes for a spear tackle.

Yet the visitors flung themselves even harder into the fray and had the better of the last 20 minutes.

The tackles were flying in thick and fast from both sides. DK had Gareth Bown sin-binned for illegal holding after 69 minutes but, despite the visitors' big late effort, the DK rearguard were equal to the task.

Football academy just for the girls

STOURBRIDGE College is to launch a new football academy for girls this autumn – aimed at providing a "level playing field" for women in sport.

The college believes the initiative will be the first soccer academy solely for girls in the region.

The academy, to be launched in September, will be based at the college's new Centre of Sporting Excellence at Brintons Field in Zortec Avenue, Kidderminster.

The college is investing a total of around £1m in the centre after acquiring the 40-acre site, formerly owned by Brintons Carpets.

The land is now home to academies for golfing and boxing, as well as football, and the college is refurbishing the building there ready for the autumn term.

College staff are encouraging female school leavers who are currently playing the game to take up a position on a sports course.

The college says it will allow girls to continue with their education and bag a qualification while being able to play football at the same time.

Stella Raphael-Reeves, director of sporting excellence at Stourbridge College, said: "We want to provide a level playing field for women in sport and are looking for players to join us from September."

Karate ace Tony makes grade again

STOURBRIDGE karate ace Tony Harvey has won his third dan black belt – 16 years after his last grade award.

Harvey runs Stourbridge Wado Ryu Karate with fellow instructor Paul Leonard.

The 44-year-old received his award from Brian Seabright, seventh dan of the British Karate Association at their headquarters in Manchester.

"He has spent the last 16 years dedicated to teaching others," said Leonard.

"Proof that it is not all about obtaining your next grade as quickly as possible but more about improving one's skill level and the dedication to the life study of ancient art."

Deakin has no shelter from Anderson blows

FIGHTERS put it on the line all night long at Wolverhampton Civic Hall in support of the two title bouts.

There were stoppage wins for Walsall's Martin Gethin, Birmingham's Thomas Costello, Dudley's Dean Anderson and Stourbridge's Steven Pearce.

Walsall's Christopher Keane, Stafford's Grant Cunningham, Brierley Hill's Kyle Spencer and Halesowen's Zak the Ripper – real name Saquib Amir – all scored points wins.

Gethin, taking in his third fight and his second this month since returning in November from 19 months out with a back injury, took out Hungarian visitor Csaba Torma in two rounds.

The two-time English lightweight champion dropped his opponent with a left hook to the body and bloodied his nose before the finish, which came one minute and 59 seconds into round two.

Costello looked excellent in finishing his Slovakian opponent, Lubomir Wejs, in the first round after just two minutes and 10 seconds.

The Brummie light-middleweight left Wejs crumpled in pain after putting all of his force into a left hook to the ribs and repeated the trick for the finish.

Anderson, again, worked to the body to score a stoppage in his return to the ring after a 15-month break against fellow lightweight 'Rockin' Robin Deakin, exactly two minutes into the second round.

Deakin had answered with little in return and his hesitance to fight back was a factor in the end of the fight

by Craig Birch

as, despite taking a sharp right hand to the sternum, he looked fit to continue.

Pearce took his first inside the distance win in just his second professional fight.

He had already put Matt Seawright flat on his face before the finish, 43 seconds into round three.

A left hook from Pearce left Seawright, cut from the right eye, reeling long enough to receive another barrage to end the contest.

Keane, a senior ABA national amateur champion in 2009, was in for six rounds with Lithuania's Remigijus Ziausius after 15 months of ring rust. But the cruiserweight picked up the pace for a points win.

Stafford fighter Cunningham beat the ever-game Ryan Clark on points.

Spencer, took a points decision over Rick Boulter.

In the final bout, Halesowen's Zak the Ripper went into his third professional fight against Walsall's 43-year-old Delroy Spencer. The Ripper won on points.

Coach warns his players

DUDLEY Kingswinford player-coach Jon Higgins has warned his side: "You have won nothing yet," despite nailing down a play-off place.

DK, promoted last season, have second place in the bag after a 24-0 home win over Newport in National League Three Midlands last weekend, writes Craig Birch.

Higgins' men still have faint hopes of winning the title and go to league leaders Rugby Lions on Saturday for an all-or-nothing showdown. If Neil Back's undefeated Lions win, they will be confirmed as champions, while DK already have the play-off spot to fall back on.

Higgins wants to focus on the promotion showdown after low-key celebrations following the weekend victory.

He said: "It was a relatively quiet affair, really. Nothing is won yet and we are pretty rounded, we know that and we said so beforehand."

"We have been on the verge of grabbing that play-off spot for a few weeks now, so there was almost an air of inevitability about it."

"We have done the first part of the job, securing a home play-off, and now we need to go ahead and try to win it. It's another stage accomplished but it's by no means the end."

Higgins and fellow boss Pete Knight make the trip on Saturday without hooker Luke Greenwood and No 8 Jon Tideswell, who both have hamstring strains. But flanker Ian Langford could be back after two games out with a knee injury.

Higgins doesn't want to hand over the title to their rivals, who beat them earlier in the season.

He said: "It's a difficult one, we are not sure of the best way of going about it. We have got a couple of injuries, so we are not going to risk them. They need to win to secure the title and certainly won't be letting up."

Matt Farrington scores against Newport

Geddes is spot-on to rescue a point

Arlesley Town 1 Stourbridge 1
STOURBRIDGE needed a hotly-disputed last-gasp penalty converted by Sean Geddes to salvage a point from their first ever visit to Arlesley Town.

A hard, bobbly pitch was not conducive to good football and the first half of this Evo-Stik Southern Premier game was a poor spectacle.

However the Bedfordshire hosts had a great opportunity inside the first minute as Stefan Bailey slipped the ball through the middle and a stumble from Nathan Bennett allowed Jordan Patrick to accelerate clear only to lash his shot high and wide.

Stourbridge made little headway in the first half, but almost took the lead in the 13th minute when a hopeful ball from Drew Canavan was pursued by new signing Marcus Palmer and the bounce caught out defender Ryan Frater and home keeper Nick Bussey.

Palmer did well to keep the ball in play but, from close to the left-hand byline, he was unable to find the net from a tight angle as Bussey smothered the shot.

A better second half followed and Stourbridge were first to threaten with Canavan's 25-yard shot drawing a save from Bussey.

However, two minutes later Gary Hackett's men found themselves trailing.

Aston Goss fed the ball inside from the right flank to Patrick who hit a crisp low shot from outside the box and into the far bottom corner of the net.

Stourbridge went close when Sam Rock's shot squirmed through Bussey's fingers and hit a post.

The Glassboys got a stoppage-time penalty for a push which the hosts claimed was committed outside the area. Geddes made no mistake.

Two new records for star Nancy

ATHLETE Nancy Hitchmough set two women's 60-age group records at the British Masters indoors championship in London.

The Dudley and Stourbridge Harriers star ran with younger age groups in the 1500m at the weekend.

She took nearly five seconds off the existing record, finishing second in the race in a time of five minutes 17.93 seconds.

The following day, racing in the W60 800m, Hitchmough led from start to finish.

Hitchmough won in a time of 2min 37.67sec, knocking three seconds off the previous record.

She is now looking forward to the Masters World Championships being held in Finland next month.

Lye ease to win against strugglers

Bustleholme 1 Lye Town 2
GOALS from Damian Whitcombe and Stuart Lewis gave Lye Town victory at West Midlands Premier League strugglers Bustleholme.

But, for the opening half-hour, any neutral spectator would have struggled to identify the team in the bottom three.

There was plenty of good football played in the middle of the park, but goalmouth action was rare.

Lye scored in the second half when Whitcombe headed into the roof of the net from a corner.

Bustleholme pushed forward to find an equaliser but were hit on the break when Phil Eilersby got the ball caught under his feet and Lewis finished at the second attempt.

Bustleholme pulled one back with a smart finish from Howard Baker.

NEW-BOYS ARE SET FOR THEIR DEBUTS

DUDLEY Heathens hand a debut to three new signings when they launch the new season with a Staffordshire Cup clash against Stoke at Monmore Green on Tuesday.

Byron Bekker, James White-Williams and Dan Greenwood were all recruited during the winter to join the existing team members, captain Adam Roynon, Ashley Morris, Tom Perry and Darryl Ritchings.

And team boss Will Pottinger is hoping all three can make a flying start against the Potters (7.30pm) and put together a good first leg lead ready for the return at Loomer Road on Saturday, April 14.

He said: "It would be a great way to start the season for us to win against Stoke, because they have some top riders to spearhead their team and we will have to be on our toes."

"But I'd like to think we have some strength in depth here this season - and that could be the key."

Style

"We also have riders who are desperate to break into the Premier League and progress their career so they have to do well for us and make promoters sit up and take notice of them."

"After the long winter, it's time for the action to start and hopefully we can start in style."

Pottinger says his riders have prepared well with a track day at Stoke under the supervision of new team coach, Heathens legend and former world champion Jan O Pedersen.

Pottinger added: "We've prepared in the best way we possibly can and hopefully the boys will be ready for Tuesday. We had a good day up at Stoke last week and all the boys dusted off the winter cobwebs. Having Jan O on board is fantastic too, you have to listen to the man."

Dudley Heathens

"Having a world champion on board to help the younger guys is brilliant for us and I can only believe they will benefit."

The busiest rider is likely to be skipper Roynon. On top of his Dudley commitments, the Cumbrian will be in the one to five of Working-ton's Premier League outfit.

The Comets open their campaign with a League Cup fixture at Sheffield.

And if that were not enough, he also has a doubling-up role alongside Jason Bunyan with Elite League Coventry.

With Bunyan away for the New Zealand Grand Prix, Roynon put down an early marker in that role when the Bees hosted Birmingham in the Midlands League.

He had two wins among his seven-point haul and led another race before taking a fall.

"I haven't been on the bike much this season and I know the other boys have had meetings elsewhere, so to get the laps under my belt is a good confidence-booster," he said.

Jason proves he's too mighty for Flinn

POWER beat skill to ensure that Dudley's Jason Welborn is still the Midlands welterweight champion after a career-best fifth-round stoppage over Coventry's James Flinn.

After relying on the boxing skills that had taken him to Wales international honours and a national ABA senior semi-final, the strength of Dudley's Welborn told when the going got tough for Flinn at Wolverhampton Civic Hall.

A right hand from Welborn put Flinn on his knees. He managed to dodge the ensuing onslaught before getting caught again with the same shot.

It was a blow from which the former English title challenger couldn't recover.

Following the decisive moment, two minutes and 13 seconds into round five, his hopes of making it big now lie in tatters.

The British Boxing Board of Control has promised a full investigation after the main bout saw one round end early with challenger Enzo Maccarinelli apparently out on his feet. But he ripped the British cruiserweight title crown from Shane McPhilbin with a unanimous points win.

But that didn't look likely when McPhilbin landed a thumping left hook which left Maccarinelli head first on the bottom rope. He answered the count on unsteady legs but was cleared to continue when timekeeper Martin Fallon sounded the bell with 47 seconds of the round remaining.
